Half term

We did it! A whole half term of blended learning! Well done to all of you parents who are home-schooling. We know it is not easy, but you did it! A huge thank you to all of the staff who have gone above and beyond to maintain a high standard of learning for the pupils, going beyond their comfort zones and embracing technology in ways we have never used it before.

It may have been a strange half term, but it has most definitely been a successful one!

We know you can't go on holiday, go on any day trips or even visit one another's houses over half term, but we hope you have a good break and spend some quality time together as a family. The children all loved No Screen Day on Wednesday, so maybe you could use some of those ideas? Have a lovely week!

Parent/Pupil Consultations

The booking system for next half term's parent/pupil consultations opened at lunchtime today. These will take place by video call, using the same system as we used in the Advent Term.

These conversations will allow teachers, parents and pupils to discuss what learning has taken place since Christmas and how we can support your child going forward.

Teachers have different slots available during the 5 school days beginning on Wednesday 24th February to avoid clashes with live lessons and other commitments.

If you have siblings at the school, please make sure that you do not book slots at the same time.

Meditation Boxes

Half term is the perfect opportunity for your child to make their meditation box as part of our Lent project. You will have received an envelope containing all of the resources and instructions are on Class Dojo School Story. Don't forget to send photos on Class Dojo portfolio We can't wait to see them!
